

Young Mother On Trial

State Charges She is Responsible For Death of Her 13-Month Old Baby

The trial of Mrs. Barbara M. Middleton, 22, wife of Russell Middleton, opened this morning in the Pettis County Circuit Court, with Judge Dewey P. Thatch, of Clinton, replacing Judge Dimmitt Hoffman on the bench. Mrs. Middleton is charged with second degree murder, in connection with the death of her infant daughter, November 29, of injuries suffered the day before, which was Thanksgiving day.

The injuries to her 13½ months old daughter, B. Rusette Middleton, occurred shortly after noon at the family home near the Missouri Pacific shops on R. F. D. 5, information states. The baby died at the Bothwell hospital about 2 o'clock the next morning.

Mrs. Middleton had contended that her child had fallen from a chair, causing the fatal injuries, and continued this contention until Saturday afternoon, November 30, after the funeral services had been conducted. It was then that she told her husband and other members of the family she had injured her baby.

Held in Jail
At an inquest conducted that Saturday night, Mrs. Middleton told her story to a coroner's jury at the inquest called by Coroner Kenneth Holdren. She was arrested immediately after the inquest and since that time has been detained in the county jail without bond. She had contended in her statement at the inquest, "I lost my head, shook my baby and struck her head on the floor. I don't remember what had happened. I don't remember anything except when I came out I was sitting on the couch holding her."

Husband With Her
Mrs. Middleton sat in the court room facing Judge Thatch, dressed in a tailored dark green suit, wearing a dark brown blouse and brown shoes. She did not wear a hat in the court room. Behind her sat her husband, who kept leaning forward near her throughout the questioning of the jury panel by her attorney, Fred F. Wesner, who sat in front of her.

Throughout the examination of the jury Mrs. Middleton listened intently to the various questions, displaying interest when a juror would make a statement to the attorneys that he had a definite opinion in the case.

Jury Members
The jury which is hearing the trial is composed of John Purchase, Otto Vajen, Broadus Wiley, F. D. Muschance, Otto Holst, Paul Read, Bruce Claycomb, J. F. Rittman, Raymond Neitzert, E. H. Arnett, Fred D. Goodman and Marion Houchen.

Instruction to the jury and reading of the information began at 11 o'clock.

The court room was packed to capacity.

Lawyer's Statement

During Mr. Wesner's talk before the jury in presenting his case, Mrs. Middleton shed tears and was comforted by her husband. Mr. Wesner stated he would show the defendant did not intentionally inflict fatal injuries to her baby, but that in a process of correcting the child for crying, because someone had left without taking her with them, she picked the child up in the usual manner to shake her.

It was while she held the child she lost her sense of balance, and something happened to her which she did not remember, he said she either fell or something happened and the child's head struck the floor. He would show, he said, she did not remember anything until she came to her senses while sitting on the couch holding her baby in her arms. It was then she went to Mrs. Ethel Berry, her sister-in-law, and asked her to help her get a doctor and Mrs. Berry said they would go to the hospital, which they did.

Told Her Story

Also, he said he would show Mrs. Middleton told her story about the baby falling from the nursery chair, because she feared they would not let her be with her baby. After its death she waited longer because she feared they would not let her attend the funeral. He also said he would show that immediately after the funeral she told her husband what she thought had happened, and also made a statement to Mr. Harned.

First Witness

The first witness on the stand was Dr. E. L. Rhodes, who attended the child at the Bothwell hospital.

Rusette Middleton. Miss Warren stated that the purpose was to permit the students to study court procedure first hand. (Staff Photo)

Legislators to Make Study of School Laws

Acknowledge More State Aid, Higher Salaries Needed

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 23.—(P)—Missouri Republican legislative leaders acknowledged demands for higher teachers' salaries and more state aid for schools today, but agreed to take no action pending a thorough study of tangled school laws.

In a formal statement on school policies, chairmen of house and senate education committees and leaders in both houses said they knew "certain teachers feel they are underpaid" and plan to ask a bonus.

The State Teachers' association has approved a three-year program to raise salaries with a $15,000,000 allotment, but the lawmakers commented:

"It is quite obvious to all who really have the welfare of our children and schools at heart that 'stop-gap' legislation of a temporary nature will not work, but will merely pile confusion upon an already confused situation."

To Make Survey
Senator C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley and Representative Walter Whitney (R) of Lawrence county, chairmen of the education committees, said they would start next week to set up a special survey committee in an effort to develop a permanent school program. The study would be made by the legislative research committee, plus lay and educational experts.

They listed three proposals as basic for a permanent program: Equalization of the school tax burden; shifting the cost of transporting pupils to the districts where the pupils live; and merger of small, uneconomic districts "to provide more adequate educational facilities for all."

They pointed out that present school laws enable many small, weak districts to keep operating by levying statutory minimum taxes in or share in state aid, which amounted to about $28,000,000 for the 1946-47 school year.

Problem Not Solved
That amount, Whitney noted, was almost twice as much as the state distributed to schools in 1941, but the financial problem has not been solved.

Hawkins added that the present system of distribution makes no differentiation between districts which need aid and richer districts which also share in the state money.

The Missouri constitution requires that at least a fourth of the state's general revenue be used for education, but the legislature has allotted a third since 1887.

Reasons Enough for Murdering Husband Is Jury's Opinion

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Jan. 23.—(P)—A circuit court jury acquitted Mrs. Goldie Sutton, 43, on a first-degree murder charge in the shooting of her husband, Guy, 46, after hearing her testimony he had: Broken her collarbone by throwing her over a cliff. Some Progress To End Strike

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 23.—(P)—The Kansas City Star management and AFL leaders here, following a meeting today, reported signs were hopeful for a settlement of the six day old strike of a group of contract carriers against the newspaper.

Earl McCollum, president of the Star company, said there were "hopeful" signs for a settlement and that there had been some tangible progress. Leonard Williams, head of the Central Labor Union's executive board, agreed and announced AFL leaders and the Star management would meet again tomorrow.

"We have agreed to keep pitching," Williams said at the conclusion of the meeting. "The important thing is that we have reached some common ground on some points and that negotiations are continuing."

"We will meet again at 11 a.m. tomorrow."

About 20 union leaders attended the meeting with officials of the Star, headed by Earl McCollum, president of the Star company, and Roy A. Roberts, managing editor.

Two Robberies Committed This Morning

Large Sum Taken From Henri's Buffet; Implement Store

Two robberies were committed sometime early this morning at Henri's Buffet, 302 West Main street, and the Wahrenbrock Implement company, 1301 South Limit avenue.

Police officers discovered at 5:25 that someone had smashed the glass in the front door of Henri's Buffet. Upon investigation it was found that the padlock on a cash drawer behind the counter had been pried open and the drawer which contained receipts for the past two days had been rifled. Henri Mos, 810 State Fair Boulevard, owner and manager, estimated the loss to be somewhere between one and two thousand dollars.

Also taken was one of two .32 calibre revolvers kept in the drawer. Considerable change and a number of one dollar bills were not touched.

Robbery At Wahrenbrock's
Eighty dollars and twenty-two cents in cash, two shot guns, 12 gauge and a 20 gauge Remington automatic, an army jacket, and 25 or 30 mechanical pencils advertising the Wahrenbrock Implement company were taken some time early this morning in a break in at the Wahrenbrock Implement company, 1301 South Limit avenue.

The loss was discovered by the owner, M. F. Wahrenbrock, 650 East Tenth street, when he arrived at the business house to open up at about 6:15 a. m. Entrance was gained by climbing over a fence, smashing the glass in the rear door, and releasing the lock.

It was the third attack on safes here in the past month. Previously burglars had made unsuccessful attempts to crack safes at the Montgomery Ward and Woolworth stores.

Kidnaped Girl Exonerated Earl Shelton

Continue Search For Man Who Demanded Ransom

LODI, Calif., Jan. 23.—(P)—Alice Dean Devine today met and exonerated Earl Shelton, a San Francisco ex-convict and studio operator, in her kidnaping and search was redoubled for a smooth-talking, middle-aged man who held her a day and demanded $10,000 ransom.

"This is not the man," declared the pretty and popular 17-year-old Lodi high school student upon confronting Shelton.

Her mother, Mrs. John Edward Devine, who said she had seen the man who sent for Alice Dean to have her picture taken Monday night when the girl disappeared, joined in exonerating Shelton.

The girl returned home Tuesday night unharmed except for minor bruises and told police she had freed herself from rope bonds and escaped from an auto court in the absence of her captor.

Shelton, 40-year-old operator of a photographic and modeling studio in San Francisco, came to Lodi voluntarily with Lodi police Sgt. Pat Coon last night to be cleared by the girl. She earlier had said the picture "looked like" her kidnaper.

Met on Rural Road

He met Alice Dean and other members of the wealthy Devine family secretly at 2 a. m. (PST) on a rural road west of here and confronted her in the glare of automobile headlights.

Coon arranged the meeting and accompanied Shelton later to an interview with reporters at the Lodi police station.

Shelton said little at the interview and departed soon after for San Francisco. He was not under arrest or detention in the case. Earlier his explanation of his whereabouts was backed up by 30 models who said they were taking a dancing lesson from him Monday at the time of the girl's disappearance.

Alice Dean disappeared after she had gone to a photographic studio here to have her picture taken for what she was told would be part of a series of national magazine articles on the typical American girl in high school.

Spent Night in Motor Court

She was returned to her home 26 hours later by the California state patrol after having spent a night in a motor court near Sacramento trusted on a bed, she said, while her abductor smoked cigarettes and watched over her.

Shown pictures of Shelton yesterday, she was quoted by Lodi police Chief Millard L. Fore as saying that the picture "resembled" the man who held her captive. Earlier Sacramento officers said the girl was "positive in her identification."

State police today renewed their pickup message for a man, using the name of E. W. Giles, who had rented the motel cabin where Alice Dean spent Monday night and most of Tuesday.

39-Year-Old Mother Admits Robbery and Holdup of Banks

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 23.—(P)—An attractive 35 year old mother of two teen-age daughters was seized yesterday less than an hour after she staged a daring daylight holdup of a downtown bank using as a weapon a hypodermic syringe filled with a mouthwash.

Police Chief Jack Brophy said the woman, Mrs. Opal Dixon, a waitress, signed a statement admitting the $2,950 holdup of the Des Moines Bank & Trust Company and also the $582 armed holdup of the United Bank and Trust Co. in St. Louis last Dec. 26.

Brophy said Mrs. Dixon would be charged with bank robbery under Iowa state law which carries a mandatory life term upon conviction.

Kansas House For Vote on Prohibition

Resolution to Submit Matter to Vote is Passed

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 23.—(P)—A resolution to submit the state's 67-year-old constitutional prohibition amendment to a vote of the people in 1948 squeezed by the Kansas House of Representatives this morning by a margin of only two votes.

The vote was 86 to 37 and 84 affirmative votes constitute the required two-thirds majority on the submission of a constitutional amendment.

As the roll call started the doors were locked under house rules and no persons were allowed to enter or leave or to move from their seats.

The resolution now goes to the Senate where a two-thirds majority is also required before the issue goes to a popular vote.

Election In 1934

Repeal of the amendment which prohibits the sale and manufacture of liquor in the state was last voted on in 1934 when the proposition to legalize liquor lost by a vote of 436,688 to 347,644.

The roll call was preceded by last minute efforts on the part of the administration to bring into the "yes" column those Republican voters who were undecided. Even influential GOP leaders from various counties were called in overnight to lend their powers of persuasion.

Fifteen Democrats joined with 71 Republicans in voting for the resolution and 33 Republicans and four Democrats voted "no."

Police Arrest Sun Goddess

KANAZAWA, Japan, Jan. 23.—(P)—Japanese police today arrested for questioning by psychiatrists the self proclaimed sun goddess Jiko, who defies General MacArthur's directives and orders her cultists: Bow first to me, then to the emperor.

No. 3 in her 10 commandments is: Practice the divine peoples (that Japanese are the world's superior people.)

Psychiatrists who sat in on a police questioning of Jiko and her followers when the interrogation became rugged—said "they definitely are mentally unbalanced."

As for Jiko, the doctors' verdict was: Religious paranoia.

Flourished Syringe

Shortly after 1 p. m. a woman, black-haired, hatless and wearing a fur coat entered the bank, sat to a teller's cage and started 40 customers and 20 employees by shouting: "This is a stickup. This place is covered." Flourishing the syringe, she threatened to "blow this place to pieces."

Teller Rex Cisco had first placed $500 in an envelope for the robber but when she protested he placed additional currency in it and she walked from the bank.

Within an hour Mrs. Dixon was seized and at first denied the holdup. Brophy said when confronted by her two daughters she admitted the robbery and also the holdup of the St. Louis bank.

Pickets do Not Keep Truman From Theatre

Attend Performance Of 'Blossom Time' In Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(P)—Eight pickets failed to keep the Truman family and their party from a performance of "Blossom Time" at the National Theater last night.

The "committee for racial democracy in the nation's capital" promptly issued a statement declaring Press Secretary Ross and the Secret Service had sought to "effect the sneak entrance of the president of the United States into a Jim Crow theater."

The pickets, protesting refusal of the National to admit Negroes, were herded to one side by police along with others on the sidewalk when the president, Mr. Truman, their daughter Margaret and a group of her friends arrived.

Without looking at the seven sign-carrying white men and one Negro, the Trumans walked in through the main entrance. They slipped unobtrusively into eighth row orchestra seats while the overture was being played in the dimly lighted theater. Few in the audience were aware of their presence.

Right Home From Show

The Trumans returned to the White House immediately after the show. By then the pickets had gone.

The committee statement said the group sent the president a telegram earlier in the day "urging him to refrain from patronizing the National and make public his agreement with the communist stand against racial discrimination in the district." It added:

"No reply has been received from the White House as yet."

Leon Ransom, chairman of the committee, said he had no way of knowing whether the president himself had received the telegram or knew of the pickets.

"I sincerely hope," Ransom said, "that the president himself is not aware of the implications of this rather ludicrous incident, and the committee will give him every opportunity to explain it to the public."

May One Of Four Indicted

Grand Jury Charges They Conspired To Defraud the Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(P)—Attorney General Clark announced today the indictment of former Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky) and three officials of a wartime munitions combine on charges of conspiring to defraud the government.

Clark said those named with May in the indictment, returned by a grand jury here, are:

Henry M. Garsson, Murray Garsson and Joseph F. Freeman, all former officers and employees of the Erie Basin Metal Products, Inc., Elgin, Ill., and of Batavia Metal Products Inc., Batavia, Ill.

He said one count charges that May, wartime chairman of the house military committee, "did agree to receive" from these firms "a total of $53,634.07."

PRESTONBURG, Ky., Jan. 23.—(P)—Former Representative Andrew J. May said in a statement today on his indictment on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government, "I am not guilty, I have done nothing wrong, and have not violated any law."

The former chairman of the house military committee referred to the indictment of himself and three officials of a wartime munitions combine, announced in Washington by Attorney General Clark.

He added: "I will appear in court and ask for a speedy trial, at which I will completely vindicate myself."

May declined to amplify the statement or answer questions.

May was defeated in last fall's election after a campaign in which his relations with the Garsson brothers had figured. Now 71, he had served in congress since 1930.

The indictment was returned to Chief Justice Bolitha Laws of the federal district court.

Clark on Prison Possible
Clark said that a conviction under the conspiracy statute provides for a maximum of $10,000 fine and for imprisonment of not more than two years.

The Senate War Investigating committee inquired at length last summer into relations between the Garssons and May.

The story it developed was this: The Garssons organized 19 firms into a combine which received more than $76,000,000 in war contracts. Joseph Freeman was Washington representative for the group.

May actively pressed war department officials to give contracts to the Garsson firms.

No Public Testimony
The congress member never testified publicly at the senate committee's hearing but acknowledged in public statements that he interceded with the war department in behalf of the Garsson firms.

Clark said he never received any payment and was motivated solely by a desire to aid the war effort.

The grand jury began an investigation last October. Records of the senate committee were turned over to it.

Clark's announcement said the indictment "follows lengthy presentation of evidence developed by an intensive investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

The grand jury, Clark said, "has been temporarily recessed and is to be recalled to consider further evidence being developed by the FBI."

The attorney general said the indictment is in four counts:

One, conspiracy to commit offenses against the United States and to defraud the United States.

Two, violations of the United States code which makes it an offense for a member of Congress to receive or agree to receive any compensation for services rendered or to be rendered to any person in relation to any proceeding to which the United States is a party before any government department.

A third count, Clark said, elaborates on the second and charges that May conspired to commit offenses against the United States and that the Garssons and Freeman "aided, abetted, counseled, procured and induced" May to commit the offenses.

Based On Alleged Receipt
The counts are based upon the alleged receipt by May at Washington, D. C. of a

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Last week the Reconstruction Finance Corporation issued an inconspicuous routine announcement stating that its BPA program would expire Jan. 22. To most people this meant nothing. To thousands of little businessmen throughout the country, however, it meant the difference between prosperity and the opposite.

To people inside the RFC, furthermore, it represented one of the cleverest rush-jobs of back-stage maneuvering in recent RFC history. Two Republican RFC commissioners, taking advantage of two Democratic absences, abrogated the RFC plan to guarantee 75 per cent of bank loans to small business up to $100,000. In the last year these support loans to small business have been the most important loans the RFC has made.

Here is the inside story of what happened. Charles Henderson, RFC chairman and generally considered a friend of small business, was absent in California. George Allen, another Democrat, and a staunch champion of small business, resigned effective Jan. 16. John Goodloe, nominated to take his place as a Democratic commissioner, had not been confirmed by the senate.

This left the RFC, on Jan. 17—the day after Allen resigned—in control of three men—two Republicans and one Democrat. On that date also the two congressional committees on small business had not yet been reorganized. Both have staunchly clean-proven RFC loans to small business, but since the new congress began, the two committees have been in the throes of reorganization.

Big Banker Viewpoint
On Jan. 17, therefore, one day after Allen resigned, and before the small business committees on Capitol Hill could get going, commissioner Henry T. Bodman moved to drop the BPA program, in other words, the "blanket participation agreement" whereby the RFC automatically underwrote 75 per cent of loans which a bank extends to a small business.

Commissioner Bodman's background is the National Bank of Detroit, one of the most powerful financial institutions of the automobile capital. Behind it are the Fisher Brothers of Fisher Body fame, and General Motors. They are also linked with the Bankers Trust and the Guaranty Trust in New York. This group represents big business, and generally speaking does not favor loans to small business.

So with two Democratic commissioners absent, Detroit banking friend Bodman moved to end the BPA program. Democratic Commissioner Henry Mulligan opposed. GOP commissioner Harvey Gunderson went along with Bodman—though without enthusiasm. The Republicans incidentally had the unofficial blessing of Democratic Secretary of the Treasury Snyder.

And that was how the RFC maneuvered to take one of its most significant steps of the past two years. For, since the BPA program was put into effect in March, 1945, the RFC had lent small business a total of $464,650,102—a flow of capital which could not help but have a tremendous impact on the country.

Note—Though Republican RFC commissioners voted against small business, GOP leaders on Capitol Hill generally hold the opposite. Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece has been strong for small business.

Capital Clash
At his latest cabinet meeting President Truman gave instructions on how to get along with the new Republican congress. He told his cabinet members not to fight the new congress, but to insist upon justice. Be courteous, careful, and cooperative, he advised.

Argentina and Pan American Union
Sentiment favoring appointment of an outstanding Argentine as director general of the Pan American Union has begun to show itself among the members of the governing board since Senator Vandenberg's Cleveland speech on foreign affairs.

Vandenberg, new chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said that he believed the much-postponed Rio conference to draft a hemisphere defense pact should be held without further delay. For a year and a half now the conference has been postponed because of U. S. objections to Argentine participation.

Today, however, other Latin Americans in the Pan American Union feel that incoming Secretary of State Marshall will follow Vandenberg's recommendation and give the green light for the conference. Therefore, some of them argue that naming a prominent nonpartisan Argentine as director general of the Pan American Union would be "a cordial gesture, helping to bring inter-American harmony back over night."

The men most frequently mentioned by those who favor this idea are Juan Isaac Cooke, for-

Steward made these estimates from War Department intelligence reports.

Consider it Would Avert Evictions On Huge Scale
By Sterling F. Green
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(P)—The United States conference of mayors Wednesday asked congress to continue rent ceilings, thereby averting "hundreds of thousands" of evictions.

The resolution called for "adequate and fair" rent control until the housing shortage ends. It was approved unanimously shortly before the three-day session ended with the election of Mayor George W. Welsh of Grand Rapids, Mich., as the new president.

The 350 city officials also asked congress to approve at once a new, federally-aided public housing program to provide low-rent housing. Private builders can satisfy the needs only of the "high income groups," this resolution stated.

The mayors said legislation like the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill, which calls for 100,000 publicly financed dwellings a year plus financial incentives for 1,000,000 privately built residences, is the "only practicable means" of meeting the housing needs of all classes.

Sentenced to Death as Spy

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Jan. 23.—(P)—Ivan Pintar, 42-year-old native of Chicago, has been sentenced by a Yugoslav court to death before a firing squad for allegedly serving as a "foreign" wartime spy and plotting to overthrow Marshal Tito's present regime.

The court, sitting in Sisak in northwestern Yugoslavia, pronounced sentence Tuesday night. Three Yugoslav citizens, one a woman, were condemned to death on similar charges. Eleven Yugoslavs were sentenced to jail terms ranging from five to 20 years, and one person was acquitted.

Private Steak Dinner To Outsiders Out

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23.—(P)—There will be no more private 50-cent steak dinners at City Hospital for outsiders.

Hospital Commissioner Dr. Francis M. Gagan said today he had reprimanded the institution's chief dietitian for arranging a dinner a week ago at which 22 clubwomen paid 50 cents a plate for steaks.

He said he had directed the dietitian, who as a club past-president was hostess for the dinner, to reimburse the hospital for the difference between the 50 cents and whatever was agreed upon as a fair price. He estimated a similar dinner in a hotel might have cost $2.50.

Even Senators Are House Hunters

Washington, D. C. housing shortage is no respecter of persons. On arriving to take up his new duties with the 80th Congress, Sen. Harry P. Cain, of Tacoma, Wash., found his No. 1 job was to locate living quarters for himself and family. Above, Senator Cain locate living quarters for himself and family. Court Hearing Pending in Divorce Case

Happiness Not An Issue in Case, Judge Tells Actress

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(AP)—With no immediate prospect of untangling their snarled marital affairs, beautiful actress Laraine Day does to work on a new motion picture today while Leo Durocher, her new hubby, prepares to leave for Florida, Suba, and the comparative peace and quiet of a Brooklyn Dodgers training camp.

Miss Day, who incurred a judge's ire by obtaining a Juarez, Mex., divorce Tuesday after getting one here Monday, was under court order to show cause why the California decree should not be set aside. No date was set for the hearing.

Miss Day and the articulate Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Baseball club, conferred for an hour with Superior Judge George A. Dockweiler, who granted the actress her California decree, and assured him they had intended no wrongdoing.

Summoned By Judge
A few hours later, however, the judge announced she would be summoned to show cause why her interlocutory divorce decree from J. Ray Hendricks, airport executive, should not be invalidated.

After the conference, Judge Dockweiler quoted Miss Day as saying "Judge, you're crucifying me. Don't you want me to be happy?"

The jurist said he had adjured her that apparently she had infringed California's rules and that her happiness was not an issue.

He added that under California law she and Durocher may not live together as man and wife for 12 months, even if the interlocutory decree is allowed to stand.

No Good Faith
Durocher told him, the judge said, that attorneys for the Brooklyn club had advised him it would be legal for them to live together in New York state.

Dockweiler's position is that Day did not show good faith in obtaining the Mexican divorce when she already had taken action in California.

Shortly after obtaining the Mexican decree, she and Durocher were married by a justice of the peace in El Paso, Tex.

Delay Naming Hospital Head

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Members of the State Cancer commission met here yesterday to consider a successor to Dr. Everett D. Sugarbaker, recently resigned as chief surgeon and medical director at Ellis Fischel State Cancer hospital at Columbia.

Commission Chairman Frank T. Hodgdon of Hannibal issued a prepared statement following the meeting but declined to discuss reasons for Sugarbaker's resignation and would give no indication when the successor would be chosen.

The statement said Sugarbaker "expressed every confidence in the continued good care of the patients at the hospital under his successor."

Sugarbaker's resignation is effective March 1.

Hodgdon said Mrs. Miriam Hoag, acting director of the Social Service department, agreed to reconsider her resignation, and added that reports were untrue that Miss Velma Finney, superintendent of nurses had resigned.

Dr. Samuel Marsh, director of the department of public health and welfare of Missouri, also attended the meeting.

Commission members present were Dr. M. G. Seelig, St. Louis, vice-chairman; Dr. Clifton Smith, St. Joseph; W. Ed Jameson, Fulton, and R. J. Connor, administrator of the cancer hospital.

Suspend 8 Runs Temporarily

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Mo-Ark Coach Lines, Inc., was authorized by the Missouri public service commission today to suspend eight regular runs temporarily, and February 10 was set for a hearing to determine whether the suspensions should be permanent.

The company said traffic had fallen off sharply and the trips had to be abandoned to prevent "a large operating loss."

Temporary suspension until March 1 was authorized for: Runs 9 and 10 between Kansas City and Springfield; Runs 20 and 21 between Springfield and the Arkansas State line; part of runs 14 and 15 between West Plains and the Arkansas State line; runs 49 and 52 between St. Louis and Cabool. In addition the route between Rolla and Cuba on U. S. Highway 66 would be abandoned.

Chairman Herbert L. Thomas, of the University board of trustees, announced Dr. Jones would assume his duties here before September 1.

Dr. Harding, head of the university since July 1, 1941, resigned, due to poor health, last February.

Delays Face Many Would-be Immigrants to United States

By Edward E. Bomar
(Substituting for James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—(P)—Delays up to ten years are faced by Europeans seeking to come to this country as immigrants.

That much time may elapse for some before they can hope to obtain passport visas from over-worked American consulate staffs.

State Department officials made the estimate today. It was prompted by an Athens report that 100 candidates had registered there for every place on Greece's quota for next year.

Aside from the would-be immigrants, possibly 30,000 war-stranded American citizens remain overseas. Of these a large proportion will have to wait two years or more, by official estimates, for screening, renewal of passports and transportation.

Several thousand of the stranded Americans have gone abroad since V-E day and run into long delays in obtaining accommodations to return.

Space Regulated

This government controls space on only six ships, and regulates this carefully.

Congress soon will consider a request for funds to expand consulate staffs from about 11,000 to 14,000 workers. But officials expect that at best the postwar logjam of applications will require years to break.

In Greece some 30,000 persons have asked visas, although the annual immigration quota for that country is only 307. From Italy has come an estimate that if the bars were let down 14,000,000 Italians would seek to emigrate to the United States.

In Budapest, police were called out to curb a queue of some 2,500 lined up at the American consulate.

In Rome an individual who claims American citizenship is told to "come back in a year," and in Warsaw the estimate is 15 months. The congestion is similar in Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, and, to a lesser degree, Norway.

Bottlenecks A Factor

Combined with clerical and other difficulties, the shipping bottlenecks also has been a factor in narrowing the flow of immigrants since V-E day.

The combined annual quotas for all countries is 153,879 but only about 40,000 were admitted during the first postwar fiscal year and some 80,000 are expected in the 12 months ending next June 30.

By the 1924 Immigration Act, first preference to one-half of any quota goes to husbands and parents of U. S. citizens. Second preference goes to alien wives and alien minor unmarried children of lawful residents of this country.

These applications originate largely in this country, whereas the bids of those who can not claim preference are filed abroad. The flood of these has been so heavy that some consulates have refused to accept more for the time being.

Lists Misleading

For these reasons officials say waiting lists are impossible to compute and are misleading.

But on a rule of thumb basis they make these calculations of the prospective delay in sifting applications and granting visas:

Austria—Quota 1,413. Two to three-year wait for non-preference applicants.

British Isles—Quota 65,721, currently open, that is not filled with approved applicants, but an estimated 2,500 Americans are waiting sea or air transportation.

Ireland—17,853 quota, open, but backlog of 8,000 applications will require an estimated eight years to catch up.

Czechoslovakia — Quota 2,874, two year wait.

China—Quotas of QPP Oriental and 100 other persons. Only first and second preference applications being considered.

France—Quota 3,036, wait of year for non preferred.

Quota Open

Germany—Quota 25,957, kept in effect during World War II for admission of qualified German national refugees abroad, currently open.

Greece—Quota 307, situation "worst of all." Waiting list of preferred applicants and current quota already filled.

Hungary—Quota 5,802, year or more waiting for those who can get controlled emigration permits from Italian government. Expect 50,000 or more applications in year or so with resultant ten year wait.

Netherlands—Quota 3,153, open.

Norway—Quota 2,377, open.

Palestine—Quota 100, with Trans-Jordan. Only preference applicants presently considered, two or more years wait for others.

Philippines—Quota 100, only preference applicants being considered.

Poland—Quota 6,524. No visas issued in Poland but go to some of more than 100,000 Poles in other countries.

Portugal—Quota 440, waiting list for preferred applicants, others must wait 10 years or more.

Issuing No Visas

Romania—Quota 377, no visas being issued, staffs inadequate.

Spain—Quota 252, waiting list of preferred applicants, possible ten years wait for others.

Sweden—Quota 3,314, open.

Turkey—Quota 845, waiting list for first preferred but not for second. "Several" years wait for others.

Yugoslavia—Quota 845, two year wait for non-preference applicants.

Says U. S. 'Must Feed Germany'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—(P)—Former President Herbert Hoover said Wednesday night the U. S. must feed Germany "whether we like it or not" because "we cannot have the American flag flying over 40,000,000 people reduced to a gigantic Buchenwald."

Without elaborating on his reference to the Nazi horror camp at Buchenwald, Hoover said the Germans are now reduced to a daily diet of about 1,400 calories, compared with the average American consumption of 3,400 calories.

"The supply of food in Germany today is less than enough to maintain a worker fit to work," he said, in a broadcast over ABC.

"Our soldiers are in this area, our flag flies there, and if for no other reason we must feed the people to protect our own boys," he said.

A few hours earlier, the former president who fed millions of Europeans engulfed by Kaiser Wilhelm's armies in World War I conferred with President Truman and agreed to undertake a new long-range mission to help the survivors of Hitler's Germany get back on their feet.

Two Young Fliers Die in Crash

MC ALESTER, Okla., Jan. 23—(P)—Two young McAlester fliers were instantly killed Wednesday when the wing of their light model airplane collapsed and the ship plunged into a street bordering the Municipal airport.

The victims were identified as C. R. Galloway Jr., 22, son of the airport manager, and Donald Laprelle, 20, son of W. R. Laprelle, prominent McAlester business man.

Witnesses reported the plane's right wing folded up when the ship came out of a loop at 1,500 feet and it crashed to the ground in a tight spin.

Both youths were rated as competent fliers and were on a routine flight at the time of the accident. Galloway recently was discharged from the army air corps.

Finland contains 60,000 lakes but the islands on its seashore and in its inland waters number 80,000.

Good for Evil

Former enemies are forgotten as an American soldier in Tokyo gives his contribution to the Japanese Junior Red Cross fund to aid victims of the recent Honshu earthquake. Jap effort at writing English on youngster's collection placard makes it "earquake."

Disaster Spotlights Mine Menace

The recent sinking of the Greek ship Himara in the Aegean Sea (1) with loss of nearly 400 lives, presumably from a mine, underlines the menace of naval mines still remaining in coastal waters. International Mine Clearance Authority, headquartered in London, reports (2) that at least 78 British vessels have been sunk since V-E Day. A critical international "incident" occurred when two British destroyers hit mines (3) off Albania.

Anything Can Happen on a Rainy Day in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23—(P)—The rain falls. . . . Under a darkening sky Manhattan's timeless towers turn into menacing titans formless as night-mares. . . . The lights wink on slowly and the night crouches back like a startled cat from the friendly skyscrapers. . . . The rain falls. . . . It shines the dull grey streets and turns the leviathan of cities into a wet and luminous wonder-land. . . . Neon signs throw a mystic glow against the low massed clouds like a crimson prelude to the end of the world. . . . An exciting sense of anything-can-happen runs through the town. . . . The Rain Falls. . . . Home-bound stenographers skitter and squeal across the splashy streets. . . . The subways mass with damp flesh and every neighbor has a woolly smell. . . . Vapor fogs bus windows and the drivers get a tired rasp in their voice as they tell the dripping customers to move back farther in the car where there is always supposed to be more room. . . . Some day when the rain is heavy a bus driver will go mad and say, "Move up in front please, everybody." . . . The Rain Falls. . . . People in the side street bars who dropped in for a quickie on the way home linger for another. . . . They look out moodily. . . . The moisture stirs the chemistry of unrest in them. . . . They wait for the unknown adventure they never look for when the sun is shining. . . . In the police stations the blotter waits for all the strange mishaps and unplanned deeds that happen only in Manhattan when it rains or a full moon shines. . . . The Rain Falls. . . . Sick old people in hospitals look out at the misty emptiness and make up their minds to die.

And lonely men and women in hotel rooms stare vacantly and live in days gone by. . . . Young people with both feet in the future because they have nothing to stand on in the present call each other on the phone and make plans and compromises. . . . And middle-aged widows with hennaed hair who work all day behind department store sales counters limp heedlessly toward their boarding houses on tired feet. . . . They hope this night at least the small electric heater will warm a hall room shoddy with lost hopes. . . . The Rain Falls. . . . The pigeons forsake muddy popcorn crumbs in Bryant park and Washington Square and huddle close-feathered in roof cornices. . . . Deserted park benches where patch-pants poets and lovers hold rendezvous drip an unheard rhyme. . . . In cheap Sixth Avenue eateries racetrack philosophers who never saw a horse run hunch over lukewarm coffee and the race forms that hold their fate and hide their fortune. . . . A fat man tries to flag down a passing cab that showers him with spray. . . . He wonders crossly what good wealth is if it won't get you a warm ride on a rainy day. . . . The Rain Falls. . . . Newsies drag in soaked papers no one will ever buy. . . . The ink of unread headlines smudges their crumpled hands. . . . Cops on beats ponder why they didn't become bartenders. . . . Along the bawery the ragged men nobody knows hold out empty palms and grab at raindrops with hands of failure. . . . Along Park avenue the tenants of the temples of power gaze down upon the changing traffic lights. . . . Emerald and ruby necklaces of an ordered world where the heat never fails. . . . And the rain never falls.

Warm Around The South Pole

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—(P)—It's a lot warmer around the south pole these days than in many spots of the United States. Alton L. Blakeslee, Associated Press staff writer with the Navy Antarctic expedition, sent word today from Little America that the temperature there yesterday ranged from a low of 29 to a high of 31 above zero.

At the time his message arrived, it was an icy 14 in the capital. And that was balmy compared to a 24 below zero registered in Minnesota.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

'Just Friends,' She Says

Romance-seekers saw significance in recent twosomeing of actor Cary Grant and Betty Hensel, pictured above at Hollywood night club. But later, in St. Louis, although admitting she wears Cary's ring, the ex-model said, "He is just a very good friend." Grant's second wife, Barbara Hutton, received a divorce last August.

Smith-Cotton Lost Close Hard Fought Game

Defeated 31 To 28
By Warrensburg
"Hi" On Local Court

The undefeated Warrensburg College Hi school basketball team out-fought the Smith Cotton team
Wednesday evening on the local Smith Cotton court by a final score of 31 to 28.
It seemed an easy victory at first half of the game. The score at the end of the first quarter was 7 to 5, second quarter, 17 to 11 and third quarter, Smith Cotton took the lead by one point, 20 to 19.

It seemed the Tigers were going to make a come-back until "Bud"
Thomas fouled out. The team seemed to "break-up" momentarily but made a quick comeback.
In the last quarter, with only five minutes to play, the Tigers led the game by two points. With two minutes to play, College Hi led by 2 points. It was an exciting game, with half the crowd screaming for their team, when they took the lead. But soon the other half of the auditorium was a bedlam when the other team went out front. The score volleyed back and forth, until the last few minutes of play the College Hi team took the lead and held it, winning by only three points.

Held To Title
It seemed that the Warrensburg team just "outhustled" the Tigers toward the end, and held their title of undefeated. The Tigers high-point man was Thomas with 10 points. For College Hi, it was O'Dell with 14.

Percentages Will Protect Tigers

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 23—(AP)— Percentage figures will protect the Missouri Tigers' position at the top of the Big Six conference basketball standings in their game with Oklahoma at Norman, Saturday, but the leadership in all games played will go to the winner.

Missouri took over the lead in all games played (13-4) in beating Washington university of St.
Louis 50 to 45 at Columbia, Mo., last night. Oklahoma is second (12-4) and Kansas State third (11-5).

Oklahoma can creep within half a game of the conference lead by beating Missouri. Oklahoma has won 2, lost 1, while Missouri is undefeated in four conference clashes.

Coach Wilbur Stalcup's Mis-sourians had a rough night in defeating Washington for the second time this season. The Tigers got off to a 26-17 halftime lead, but the St. Louis team pulled to within two points of a tie, 44-46 with less than two minutes of play remaining.

Missouri won the rough game at the free throw line. Each team scored 17 goals from the field, but the Tigers counted 16 charity tosses, Washington 11.

His wife, the former Carol Cim-bel, presented him with an eight night at Harkness Pavilion.

Greenberg, sold last Saturday to the Pirates by the Detroit Tigers, had deferred going to Pittsburgh for a talk with the Pirate management until after the baby was born.

red Heart High of Sedalia. In the opening, the "B" team won 17 to an easy 29 to 10 triumph in the feature tilt.

A tight defense held the Sacred Heart first half, while the Saints were counting 18 points.
In the "B" game Nacy carried away high point honors with nine points, more than half of his team's total.

terville squad was Miles, forward

Passes up Nylons For Baseball Tickets

BOSTON, Jan. 23—(AP)—A woman who passed up 30 pairs of nylon stockings to get two season passes to Boston Braves baseball games couldn't see anything unusual about it.
"What could I do with 30 pairs of nylons, eat 'em?" asked Mrs.
Roger P. Stokely, one of the Braves' suggestion contest winners.

Mrs. Stokely, wife of a Harvard law school senior and first in the women's division, traded for the tickets last night after she could do so and that she was "paying a great tribute to baseball" by making the swap.

NEW YORK—When a boom-tendance goes over one million, we wonder why some smart club owner doesn't apply the same idea to his whole squad.

He could tell them, "Boys, I'll take what the first million customers (for whatever number he likes) bring in at the gate and you can whack up to ten times as much, of course, but even get the biggest share of course, but even the prospect of earning a few extra bucks might be an incentive for all the players to hustle." Red Smith, the All-American

Ask Marshall To Give Views

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—(AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall has been invited to give the senate foreign relations committee a comprehensive outline of his views on American foreign policy. But Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) extended the invitation in such a way, it was learned today, as to emphasize the committee's desire to cooperate fully with the new cabinet officer in the conduct of his work.

Marshall was asked to appear at his own convenience and some committee members said it would be all right if he did not find it convenient to testify until after the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting at Moscow. The general assumption is that Marshall will attend the Moscow meeting even though he left the question open temporarily.

He buckled down to his first full day's work at his big mahogany desk in the state department with praise still being heard from both Republican and Democratic members of congress for his expressed determination to run the nation's foreign affairs on a "non-political" basis.

The total assets of farmers were estimated at 101½ billion dollars on January 1, 1946. Their chief liabilities were farm mortgages totaling 5 billions and other debts totaling 3.3 billions. Farm proprietors thus have an equity of about 93.2 billion dollars in their enterprises.

Real Price Break May Come Next Spring

By S. Burton Heath
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA) — That break in prices, for which you have been asking, is on the way. It might come next spring. It is almost certain to arrive by early fall.

There probably will be many price rises before the break comes. It probably will not be sensational. But you can expect the prices of most consumer goods to settle down somewhere in the vicinity of the OPA ceiling level.

That is the consensus of a large list of recognized experts that includes trade paper editors, private and business economists and merchandise executives.

The inflated price level actually began to crack last Fall, as shortages gave way in a very few lines to moderately ample supplies.

Buyers started getting choosy. Then price readjustments began.

That is how the real price break will come, the experts say. "Take men's suits for example. As the supply begins to balance demand, so the consumer no longer feels compelled to grab anything at any price, the price of suits will stop rising and perhaps drop."

Unless strikes or unforeseen other obstacles stymie production, most experts believe that the balancing of supply and demand in most consumer lines should take place before Labor Day.

This picture does not represent the view of any single economist, merchandiser or trade paper expert, but is a composite of the opinions of dozens of NEA Service. Editors of many leading publications were polled by the National Conference of Business Paper editors. More than 70 non-government economists were canvassed by the F. W. Dodge Corp.

Long, long trail winding to nylon stockings, a familiar picture by advertisements like the one above. The nylon line picture was made last April during a sale "for men only"; the advertisement appeared this month, but this time there were no lines.

More than a score of private and industrial and university economists joined in a round table sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board. NEA reporters questioned leading merchandisers. Out of this background comes some idea of what you have a right to expect of consumer prices this year.

"There is a buyers' market today," says Ben Gordon, editor of Chain Store Age, "but it is 80 per cent anticipatory and only 20 per cent actual. The genuine article should arrive in six to eight months. One sign is that panic and hoard buying have virtually ceased. Nylons and men's shirts still are scarce, for example, but you no longer see long lines waiting for chances to buy them."

"The buyer is beginning to set the market price of articles that are not in the extremely scarce class," another editor reports. "Prices can be expected to level off at about OPA ceilings, or perhaps a trifle above, by spring."

"The buyers' market is here already in some cotton goods," said a spokesman for one of the biggest retail stores.

"The bottom dropped out of the chenille tufted bedspread market last Fall," according to Editorial Director Julien Elfenbein of the Haire Publications' home furnishings group. "The American market was flooded with millions of dozens of women's linen handkerchiefs that had been hidden in China during the war."

"The prices on some lines of consumer goods, especially durables, cannot come down much because of replacement costs. Durable goods dealers now are getting rid of ersatz and poor quality goods, poor designs and unbranded stuff. Many are buying from hand to mouth in anticipation of new designs, better quality and lower prices in mid-1947."

Says Dorothy Stote, editor of Infants' and Children's Wear: "It is generally believed in this industry that there has already been a permanent swing to a buyers' market."

Prices should be lower after mid-1947, prophesies the editor of Tide, magazine of advertising, who believes that there will be a recession in the third quarter of this year that will last until prices reach a "reasonable enough level so that consumers have some incentive to purchase again."

Says another trade editor: "Certain prices will come down. Agricultural prices should be lower this year, also the prices of some durable goods, such as textiles and apparel. Look at the production of such items as radios and soft goods, at all times high, with supply already balancing demand last Fall."

Of 72 non-government experts checked by the F. W. Dodge Corp., 53 felt that the price peak would be passed some time in 1947.

The NICB forum was concerned primarily with industrial activity. They foresee a recession this year, rather than a depression, and think it will be brief. It will include, in the opinion of several price reductions.

"Food prices are past their peak," said Jules Backman of the New York University School of Commerce faculty. "I think that

Club Meets at Glenn Home

The Buncombe Homemakers club met at the home of Mrs. Ellis Glenn for the January meeting. A covered dish dinner was served at noon. The president, Mrs. Clay Thomas, presided. Roll call was answered with "A convenience I hope to add to my home this year." One dollar was donated to the Student Loan Fund. Red Cross sewing was distributed, to be completed by February 1. The club voted to make two comforts for the needy children in the Ozarks. The president gave a report on the council meeting and plans were discussed for the year's work. The 1947 year books were distributed and partially filled out. The February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Walton Berry. A statewide radio appeal was broadcast in California for news of screen star Virginia Mayo, above, unheard from several days after leaving her swank Hollywood home on Jan. 17. Interesting Club Meeting

The January meeting of the Dresden Homemakers club was held at the home of Mrs. Louis Benz, with Mrs. William Arnold, Mrs. W. S. Manley, Mrs. H. L. Bolton as assisting hostesses. Twenty-one members, one new member, Mrs. W. S. Ritchie, and three visitors answered roll call by telling their heart's desire, a convenience they hope to add to their home this year. The new demonstration agent was present at the meeting, Mrs. George Fichter, vice president, in the absence of the president, Mrs. C. Drake, who presided over the meeting. The 1947 year books were filled out.

Devotional was led by Mrs. A. B. Cook. Mrs. George Fichter read the health letter. A letter was received from Miss Alice Alexander thanking the club for gifts received. The club voted to give $5 to the polio fund. Report of the 4-H work was given by Mrs. Charles Fichter. Games on guessing were played. The meeting was closed with the singing of the club song, "Sweet Genevieve." After the meeting Mrs. George Fichter gave an interesting talk on her trip to California. An all day meeting will be held February 11 with a joint session of the cemetery association, Mrs. C. E. Romig, hostess, Mrs. C. E. Ferguson and Mrs. C. Fichter, assisting.

The Doctor Says
Some Infections are Hard to Cure
By William A. O'Brien, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Osteomyelitis (bone infection) often develops in boys and young men following an injury and it is a most difficult infection to treat. The disease is produced by the invasion of germs from the blood, by an open bone fracture, or by an operation on the bone.

Acute osteomyelitis usually attacks suddenly, the victim becoming seriously ill. The pain over the affected bone indicates the source of the infection, which in the beginning is confined within the bone capsule. As the infection progresses it breaks through into the surrounding tissues, and the swelling becomes marked.

Germ responsible for acute osteomyelitis most often originate in the skin, although in some instances the disease develops from an infection elsewhere in the body. The thigh, leg and arm are most often affected, or the disease may follow the extraction of a tooth.

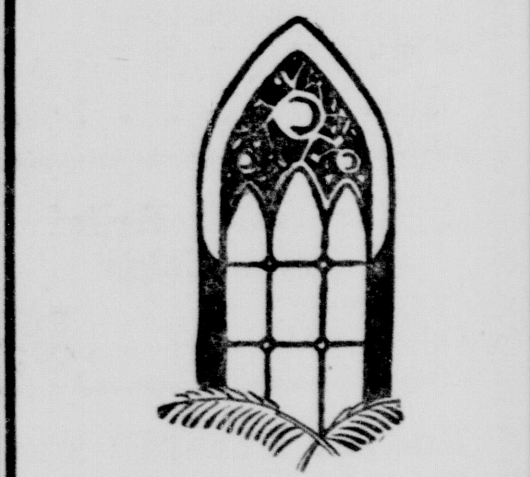

The tendency in recent years has been to treat acute osteomyelitis conservatively, by the use of sulfa drugs, penicillin and blood transfusions. If the infection responds and the signs of serious infection subside, the treatment is continued until there is no danger of relapse.

When an operation is performed, the bone is opened, and the infection is drained with as little disturbance to the surrounding structures as possible. Special support of the infected limb is essential and casts and special splints are used.

Chronic Stage Costly
Acute osteomyelitis may develop into the chronic stage. Dis-

AT two o'clock that Friday afternoon, Rose was in the parlor, lackadaisically running through the Charles Wakefield Cadman album, when she saw Mrs. Kerr coming along the pavement toward the Cameron porch. It must mean a telephone call. Rose got up from the piano and went to the door.

"For you," Mrs. Kerr said. "A man. He's holding the line."
"Long distance?" Rose thought of Dixon.

Mrs. Kerr said no. "I didn't recognize the voice, Rose. Someone who hasn't called before."
Rose shut the door and followed Mrs. Kerr to the cottage. She felt unaccountably nervous, and her hand jiggled as she picked up the receiver. Of course, she was being silly. It couldn't possibly be—
She said "Hello," in a strange, timid sort of tone. Mrs. Kerr discreetly withdrew.

"Rose?"
She didn't answer immediately.

"Hello, Rose? Is that you, honey? Know who this is?"
"Yes," she said.

"I haven't seen you in a con's age, honey, but I still think about you. D'you ever think about me?"
"Yes," she said. "Sometimes."

"I'm leaving Blakesville today, leaving for good and won't be back. I kind of wanted to tell you goodbye. I'll never forget you, Rose."

She said, "I'll never forget you, either," and added, as if the words were not to be repressed: "I wish I could."

A pause, and then he said: "I never knew what happened to us, why you bumped me off like that. I've been in and out of town most of the summer, Rose. I've hung around the park a hundred times, hoping you'd show up; but you didn't. I've wanted to telephone, but I was afraid to, not knowing what you'd say. And I was kind of mad, too."

ability from chronic osteomyelitis is long, and costly hospital and special medical care may be required.

The infected bone heals slowly, often with many flare-ups of the infection. The difficulty seems to be caused by separation of fragments of bone, which must be eliminated before healing can occur.

In one radical operation on chronic osteomyelitis, the infected bone is removed, and the wound is left open. In the other method of treatment, following the removal of the infected bone the gap is filled with a pack and the limb is encased in a plaster cast.

After the bone has healed, extensive physical therapy may be necessary.

Question: I have had varicose veins for many years and have been receiving injections for the last eight years. I have developed a sensitive spot on my ankle, and at times, it is itchy. What do you advise?
ANSWER: If various veins continue to give trouble, some physicians ligate the external vein in the groin, provided the deep set is competent.

At some English airports, it is possible to hire an airtaxi at six cents a mile.

you love and trust me."
She was silent, clinging to the telephone with rigid fingers.
"Come on, honey. Get that four o'clock traction. Please do!" His voice implored, and even over the wire the spell of it reached her. "I've been so lonely for you, Rose. Every day, every hour, feeling so bad because you turned me down—"

She listened, and believed. "I'll come," she said. "I'll come."

MRS. KERR was on the cottage veranda—or a woman resembling Mrs. Kerr, Rose couldn't be sure. But she was sure of nothing. All reality had melted away.

She went home and in her room stood staring for long moments, before she pulled the suitcase from her closet and began to fill it with things from the bureau drawers.

When the suitcase was ready, she started to dress, her hands shaking so that she blundered and dropped things, and the comb tangled in her hair. As she stared into the mirror, she seemed to see not her own face, but Mamma's, Dixon's—the composite of a dozen faces, all staring questioningly back at her. To the faces, she whispered: "I love him, he wants to marry me." The faces should have dissipated then; they didn't; they remained. She turned from the mirror, angered, trembling.

She got out her hat and coat, and put them on, and tiptoed down to the stair landing for a glance at the clock. Just three. She was too early, she would have to wait. But not here. Through the window she could see Mamma planting the tulip bulbs, the sunlight falling on her bent head and broad, stooping figure. Soon Mamma would be coming into the house, calling to her, perhaps—"Rose, dear, where are you?" . . . She would have to go downtown, wait there, at the traction station. Looking at Mamma, she whispered, "I'm eloping with a man she's never even seen!"

But such thoughts must not be tolerated; she thrust them from her, and went back to her room, took up her purse and the suitcase, glanced all around.

The door opened, and Sidney walked in.

Life Termer In Kidnap Case Out of Prison

Marshall Depew, Who Abducted Mrs. Donnelly, is Free

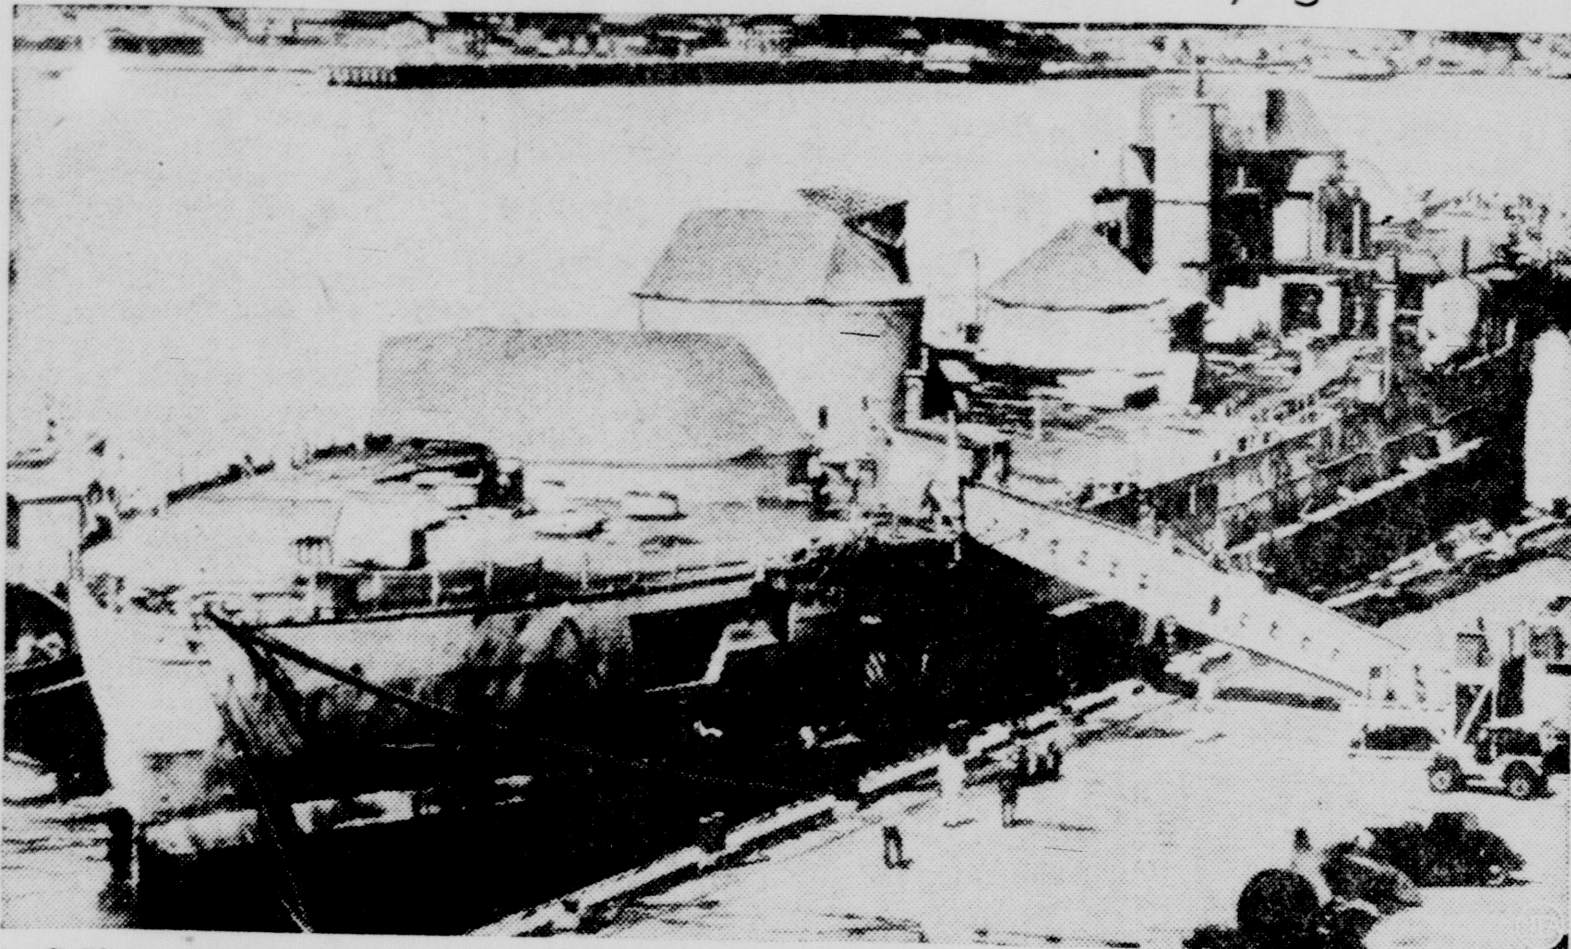

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 23—Marshall Depew, who served 14 years of a life sentence for kidnapping Mrs. Nell Donnelly of Kansas City in 1931, was released from the Missouri prison Tuesday, the state parole board reported Wednesday night. Depew was convicted by a Jackson county circuit court in 1932 of the kidnapping of Mrs. Donnelly, a Kansas City garment manufacturer and later the wife of the late Senator James A. Reed. Under Missouri law a life term is eligible for parole after five years in prison, but although Depew was up for a parole a number of times, his release was not granted until Tuesday.

Was Good Worker
Donald Bunker, parole board secretary, said Depew, 52, is living on his own farm near New Bloomfield, Mo., and has prospects of several jobs in St. Louis as a stationary engineer.

Bunker said Depew's prison record showed him to be "one of the best workers" ever incarcerated in Missouri's penitentiary. For more than a year Depew has been in charge of the prison power-house and turbine room.

Previously Up For Parole
Depew has been up for parole three times previously, but the board, Bunker said, has been very careful in studying the records before releasing him. The secretary termed recommendations in Depew's behalf "wonderful" and said the board believed Depew's rehabilitation has been complete. Charles Mele, one of Depew's two accomplices, who was given 35 years in the penitentiary for his part in the kidnapping, also was approved for parole, but will not be released, Bunker said, until an adequate job can be found for him. He is a restaurant worker. Both paroles require that De-

Sold for $46,000, the hulk of the USS Oklahoma is shown at naval anchorage, Pearl Harbor, being fitted for the last voyage. When ready, the ship will end up on the scrap heap at Moore Drydock, Oakland, Calif. The Oklahoma was sunk in the first 10 minutes of the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941 and was raised in 1943, but since then has lain idle, stripped of once-mighty guns.

pew and Mele stay away from Kansas City.

Walter Wener, the other kidnaper, was given a life sentence and still is in prison.

Held In Retreat

The three men kidnapped Mrs. Reed, then Mrs. Paul F. Donnelly, and held her for $75,000 ransom, which never was paid because the abductors became alarmed over the intensive search which immediately was started.

She and her chauffeur, George Blair, were kept blindfolded 34 hours in a shabby retreat an hour's drive from Kansas City after the kidnappers commandeered her car as she returned home from her factory December 16, 1931.

The abductors forced her to write a note to her husband, specifying how the ransom should be paid, and stating that she would be blinded and the chauffeur killed if police were notified.

The captives were released unharmed on a road after police received a telephone call stating where the two could be found.

Reports on Favorite Bird

The Veterans Administration contact office at 511 South Ohio street, provided information and assistance to 2053 veterans and members of their families during December, it was reported today by W. F. Fidler, of the VA office. The office also assisted veterans in preparing 570 applications for government benefits. Fidler said that an increasing number of veterans who live in the surrounding area are being served by the VA's itinerant contact service.

Fidler reminded veterans in this community that they have only about two weeks remaining in which to reinstate lapsed National Service Life Insurance term policies without being required to take physical examinations.

Unless the new congress extends the reinstatement deadline, he said, physical examinations will be required for reinstatements after February 1. Until that time, veterans may reinstate their term insurance by paying only two months' premiums and certifying that their health is as good as it was at the time the policy lapsed. Veterans still may reinstate

Huge Due Bills Are Presented

Poles and Slavs Want 11 Billions In Reparations

LONDON, Jan. 23—(P)—Due bills covering the cost of death, misery and destruction of Europe's bloodiest war were presented against Germany and Austria Wednesday by their Polish and Yugoslav neighbors.

In notes to the four-power Deputy Foreign Ministers Council which is doing the spade work on German and Austrian peace treaties, Yugoslavia asked that Austria be made to pay a heavy share of $11,000,000,000 reparations bill against Germany and Austria, and Poland asked permanent title to 40,000 square miles of former German territory extending to the Oder and Neisse rivers which she now administers under the big three Potsdam accord.

The Yugoslav note said Austria especially was responsible for a "terroristic" occupation which cost the lives of tens of thousands of Yugoslavs and much damage, and that Austria should pay her "proper share" of the $11,000,000,000 bill.

Austria's share of the total should be much larger than 10 per cent which should be according to proportionate populations, the Yugoslav note said.

Because of their geographical position, the memorandum added, the Austrians had a greater interest than the Germans even in subjugating Yugoslavia.

Personnel of the occupation administration was largely Austrian, the memorandum continued, and Austrian capital and enterprises followed the armies and were responsible for much of the looting.

Yugoslavia listed her losses as follows: Loss of national wealth $7,458,206,468; loss of national income $3,750,589,661; occupation costs $374,848,492; killed 1,236,303; disabled 275,385; arrested and displaced, 765,138.

In addition, Yugoslavia has asked a strip of Austrian Carinthia in the Drava Valley.

Meanwhile, the deputies were presented with a second sharply worded note from Brazil demanding a fuller participation for smaller allies in the deliberations and implying strong resentment against a "big power peace."

Report From VA Office

The Van Natta Multi-Workers 4-H club met Tuesday at the school house with all members present. Rose Geiser, president, called the session to order and it opened by all repeating the club pledge. Roll call was answered by each member telling of his favorite board. James Johnson, secretary, read the minutes. During the following business discussion the club song was selected and voted on, membership cards filled out and program procedure discussed. The different groups met with their respective projects. Work for the next meeting was explained. With the completion of the business session, Ann Harding, song leader, led in the singing of the club song, "Follow the Gleam" and "This Little 4-H Light of Mine," after which the meeting was adjourned. Miss Mary Anderson, teacher, was a visitor at the meeting and also assisted in the club work. The next meeting will be Tuesday, January 28.

lapsed policies after February 1, without examination provided they make application within six months of the date of lapse, he added. Reinstatements may be made at the local VA office.
